HFA Renews Licensing Agreement with LyricFind

New York, July 18, 2012: The Harry Fox Agency, Inc. (HFA), a premier rights management solutions and services provider for the music industry, has announced the renewal of a lyrics licensing agreement with LyricFind, a worldwide leader in lyric solutions.

Since its launch in 2004, LyricFind has entered into lyrics distribution agreements with major and many independent music publishers. In addition, LyricFind provides licensed lyrics to various digital service providers and has developed successful mobile applications for the iPhone, iPad, Android, and Blackberry Playbook.

Using its sophisticated bulk licensing process which quickly allows a high volume of licenses to be efficiently processed and issued, HFA will continue to provide licenses for songs in LyricFind's extensive database ensuring that music publishers and songwriters are accurately compensated for use of their lyrics. More than 46,000 of HFA's affiliated publishers have the opportunity to make their songs available in LyricFind's song database as well as for its web and mobile service platforms.

"Music fans are demanding instant access to their favorite lyrics in order to complete their music experience and HFA is pleased to continue to provide licensing solutions for one of the world's leading licensed lyrics services," said Michael Simon, Senior Vice President of Business Affairs, General Counsel and Chief Strategic Officer of HFA.

"We are very happy to extend our relationship with HFA," said Darryl Ballantyne, CEO of LyricFind. "Our technological integration with HFA enables us to license huge amounts of content in an extremely efficient manner, which allows us to offer the largest licensed catalogue of lyrics in the world."
